

International Studies in Social Science

International Comparison of Crime and Victimization:
The ICVS

Edited By Helmut Kury University of Freiburg and Max-Planck-Institute for Foreign and International Penal Law

de Sitter Publications

Table of Contents

Chapter 1

Introduction

Helmut Kury 1-9

Chapter 2

The International Crime (Victim) Survey: Impact and Future Policy

Implications

Jan van Dijk and Mark Shaw 10-21

Chapter 3

Comparing Crime Rates: Confronting the International Crime

(Victim) Survey, the European Sourcebook of Crime and Criminal Justice

Statistics, and Interpol Statistics

Marcelo F. Aebi, Martin Killias, and Cynthia Tavares 22-37

Chapter 4

Methodological Problems in Victim Surveys: The Example of

the ICVS

Helmut Kury, Joachim Obergfell-Fuchs, and Michael Würger 38-56

Chapter 5

The ICVS in the Developing World

Anna Alvazzi del Frate and John van Kesteren 57-76

Chapter 6

Victimization, Crime, and Social Factors in Post-Socialist Countries

Beata Gruszczynska 77-89

Chapter 7

The Seriousness of Crime: A Cross-National Comparison

Melissa Schaefer and James P. Lynch 90-102

Chapter 8

Gender Differences in Violent Victimization in Eighteen Industrialized

Countries: The Role of Emancipation

Antonia Verweij and Paul Nieuwbeerta 103-118

Chapter 9

Fear of Street Violence in Europe

Kauko Aromaa and Markku Heiskanen 119-132

Chapter 10
 Attitudes to Punishment: How Reliable Are International Crime Victim Surveys?
Helmut Kury, Joachim Obergfell-Fuchs, Ursula Smartt, and Michael Würger 133-150

Chapter 11
 The Future of the International Crime (Victim) Survey (ICVS)
Anna Alvazzi del Frate 151-161

Index 162-169

This volume de
 of the largest se (Victim) Survey and 2000) in nu highly different translated into timization and able, enabling a such large inter methodological cultures, and sc number of these

There h
 the first large-s 1960s (cf. Enni
 applied instrum crime phenome tics. Great deve use of public po gy was already wide attention,
 Kinsey et al. 19
 of collecting d
 became increas

As me
 cially in Wester
 ber of countri Netherlands co
 ular intervals.
 conducted a nu
 Richter, and W
 German Federa
 vey. It has prep tight national

* University of Law, Guent